THE COUNCIL.

The Council, the governing body of the College, consists of twenty-four Members, three* of whom go out in rotation annually in July, but are eligible for re-election by the Fellows of the College. All proceedings of the Court of Examiners, the Midwifery and Dental Boards, and the several Committees are reported to the Council for approval and confirmation. The Meetings of the Council are generally held in each month of the year, except in the month of September, and at such other times as the business of the College may require. During the past Collegiate Year there have been thirteen Meetings.

* If in any year one of the three retiring Members be President of the College, he does not go out of office until the succeeding year.

THE COURT OF EXAMINERS.

The Court of Examiners consists of ten Members elected by the Council from the Fellows of the College. The Court superintends the carrying out generally the regulations of the Council relating to the preliminary and professional education of Students, and conducts the professional examinations of Candidates for the Diplomas of Fellow and Member of the College. During the past Collegiate year the Court has held six Meetings for the Examinations for the Fellowship, and fifty-eight Meetings for the Primary and Pass Examinations for the Membership. THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN MIDWIFERY.

The Board consists of four Members annually elected, viz. :—The Chairman, one of the Vice-Presidents of the College, and three other Members, who are required to be elected either from the Fellows or Members of the College, or from the Fellows or Licentiates of the Royal College of Physicians of London. The Board conducts the Examination of Candidates for the Licence in Midwifery. There have been six Candidates examined during the year, of whom four were approved and obtained the Licence.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN DENTAL SURGERY.

The Board consists of six Members elected by the Council for five years, viz. :—three Members of the Court of Examiners of the College, and three other persons skilled in Dental Surgery. The Board conducts the Examination of Candidates for the Diploma in Dental Surgery of the College. During the year forty-five Candidates have been examined, thirty-six of whom passed to the satisfaction of the Board.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

At a recent Meeting of the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons, it was resolved that a Report on the affairs of the College should be drawn up annually, with a view to its being published for the information of the Fellows and Members. This task was intrusted to the President, who singly is to be responsible, at the close of his year of office, for its execution.

In compliance with this Resolution I have compiled this, the first Annual Report; and I do so with the more satisfaction, as this innovation on the previous practice of the College is entirely in accordance with the views I entertain on the subject. Freedom of intercourse between the governing body and the constituents and members of a Corporate Institution is the best security for that mutual confidence which is essential to its well-being. And I think that such a Report as the present should not only contain an account, necessarily brief, of the condition of the various departments of the College which may interest its Fellows and Members, but should also include a record of the conclusions at which the Council have arrived, in their deliberations, on all questions of any importance which have been brought before them,—deliberations which, I venture to affirm, have been governed by an earnest desire to promote the interests of the Fellows and Members, and by a just appreciation of the position and influence of their College, which they cannot but regard as indissolubly associated with the well-being of the Profession generally.

Some of the subjects which, necessarily, find a place in this Report are also introduced in detail in the College Calendar; these will be treated here succinctly, and more space will thereby be left for such matters of interest as are not readily accessible in other ways.

At the election into the Council in July, 1874, Mr. Hilton and Mr. Marshall, who vacated their seats by rotation, were re-elected; and Mr. Alfred Baker, of Birmingham, was elected in the room of Mr. South, the only remaining Life Member, who resigned his seat a short time previously, and whose name now stands in the College Calendar, in company with Mr. Arnott's, as the Retired Life Members of the Council. The present Members of the Council residing in the Provinces are Dr. Humphry, Mr. Southam, and Mr. Baker.

During the collegiate year that has just closed, two former Members of the Council have been removed by death,—Francis Kiernan and Thomas Paget. Mr. Kiernan was elected a Councillor in 1850, and served the office of Vice-President in 1864, when ill-health compelled him to relinquish his seat. He was also a Member of the Court of Examiners. His name will ever be favourably associated with the progress of Anatomy in England. Mr. Paget was elected on the Council in 1862, and was the first Provincial Member. He retired in rotation in 1870. For many years Mr. Paget held a prominent position in the Provinces, and was much esteemed in his native town and neighbourhood.

There has been but one change in the Court of Examiners during the past year: Mr. Hilton resigned his seat a few months before the expiration of his term of office, and was succeeded by Mr. Cooper Forster, now the senior Surgeon of Guy's Hospital.

The term of office—five years—of Mr. Quain, the Representative of the College in the General Medical Council, is just about to expire. The vacancy will be filled at the next meeting of the Council.

During the year there have been 9 Members of the College admitted to the Fellowship by election, 17 have been admitted after examination, and 17 have been referred to their studies for twelve months.

Of 95 Candidates who presented themselves for the Primary Examination for the Fellowship 42 passed, and 53 were referred to their studies for six months.

Of Candidates for the Diploma of Member, 518 have been examined; and of these, 392 were admitted and 126 were referred to their studies for six months.

Of those who presented themselves for the Primary Examination for the Diploma, 504 were approved and 223 were referred to their studies for three months, making a total of 727 who presented themselves for the Examination in Anatomy and Physiology.

Of the Members admitted, 307 were educated in the London Schools and 54 in the Provinces; 6 were from Ireland and 17 from Scotland; 8 were from the Colonies and Foreigners.

In comparing the numbers of Fellows and Members admitted during the last year with those admitted in 1873-74, it will be seen that there is an increase in each case—the numbers being, of Fellows in 1873-74 twenty-nine, in 1874-75 thirty-four; of Members, in 1873-74 four hundred and fifty-six, in 1874-75 five hundred and eighteen.

In contrasting the numbers in the Primary and Pass Examinations for the Membership in each year, a remarkable discrepancy will be perceived. This is uniformly so; and reveals the singular circumstance, that nearly one third of the Candidates who pass the Primary Examination never offer themselves for the final Examination for the Diploma.

Two prizes are offered by the College—the Collegial Triennial Prize and the Jacksonian Prize. The subject of the former is, "The Radicles of the Lymphatic System in relation to the external and internal surfaces of the Body." Essays on this subject must be delivered at the College on or before the last day of next year, 1876.

The subject for the Jacksonian Prize of the present year is, "The use of Galvano-caustic in the removal of Morbid growths."

The subject proposed for next year—1876—is, "The treatment of Cancer of the Rectum, particularly as regards the possibility of curing or relieving the patient by Excision of the affected part." It is hoped that there will be many and worthy competitors for these Prizes.

The Lectures which have been delivered consist of those on "Dermatology"—six in number—by Prof. Wilson; six on "Syphilis" by the Hunterian Professor of Surgery and Pathology, Mr. Henry Lee; and three by Prof. Turner, on the "Structure of the Placenta." The Lectures on Comparative Anatomy, eighteen in number, were delivered by Prof. Parker, who selected for his subject "The Structure and Development of the Skull" in continuation of his course of the preceding year.

The Museum has been enriched in many departments during the Collegiate year which has just closed. Especial attention may be directed to the large collection of dried specimens of diseased Bone, to which many recent additions have been made, and which is now so arranged and preserved as to facilitate their study without injury to the Preparations.

In the healthy Anatomy the valuable osteological collection has been further extended, but still requires some specimens to complete this instructive series.

The Preparations illustrating the osseous parts of the Ear in Mammalia, Birds, and Reptiles, and the otoliths of Fishes have received numerous additions, and have been so arranged as to admit of the series being studied and the specimens compared.

A new Edition of the Osteological Catalogue is required, in consequence of the great expansion of this department of the Museum; this Catalogue is now in course of preparation. A revised Edition of the Catalogue of the Dermatological Series is also needed, and is being prepared.

Among the presents to the Museum is a series of dissections of the Brain in Man and the Horse, by the late Joseph Swan, which are delineated in his work on the "Relation of the Brain to Voluntary Motion." These were presented by the Executors of Mr. Swan.

With the view of extending the usefulness of the valuable collection of College models and casts of the Brain in Man and Animals, which were acquired at considerable cost and trouble, Mr. Brucciani, of Russell Street, Covent Garden, is permitted to supply copies of them at a low price (of course without profit to the College) to those who desire to possess them.

The number of Visitors to the Museum is increasing annually; between six and seven thousand have entered their names in the Visitors' book during the last year.

It is earnestly hoped that Fellows and Members will aid, by their contributions, in further enriching the pathological, and indeed every, department of the Museum. It is much to be deplored that so many valuable specimens must be wasted, which would be gladly received and acknowledged by the Conservator of the Museum.

The very valuable Library of the College has been fitted with Sun-lights, and further conveniences have been supplied to Students in reading and writing accommodation. Authors are solicited to send copies of their Works to be deposited in the Library. The expense of purchasing new books is necessarily considerable; and a list of new or recommended publications, and of new editions of Standard works, is periodically laid before the Library Committee, who make a selection of all which are in demand, or which are likely, from their reputation, to be required. The number of Readers who have availed themselves of the use of the Library during the past year is 4760. During six weeks the Reading-Room was closed for the necessary cleaning, decoration, &c. 418 volumes have been added last year to the Library, including 98 new Works, and 101 Pamphlets, Essays, Reports, and Theses. The entire collection now contains 35,172 volumes (comprising 14,135 works) and 37,468 Pamphlets, Essays, Reports, and Theses.

During the year the general internal repairs and decorations of the College have been attended to; and many of the interesting Portraits possessed by the College are now being cleaned and the frames restored. This collection has been enriched by a full-length portrait of Sir William Fergusson, by Lehmann, presented by the Subscribers; and a miniature of John Abernethy, by Hunt, presented by Mr. Hussey, of Oxford.

In recognition of his long and faithful services, an increase of salary has been granted to Mr. Stone, Clerk to the College.

The Receipts and Expenditure of the College are set forth in detail in the Calendar. The gross amount of the former is £13,093 1s. 3d., and of the latter £12,672 14s. 5d., leaving a balance, during last year, of £420 6s. 10d. in favour of the College.

The only sources of Income possessed by the College, apart from the Fees derived from the Examinations, are:—from the Rent of Chambers, £770; Rent of a House, £350; and from investment in the Funds, £1250: together £2370. It is scarcely necessary to say that a large proportion of the money expended is devoted to the preservation and extension of the Museum—a circumstance which naturally occupies the anxious consideration of the Council, in contemplating any new arrangement in the duties of the College which may jeopardize this Income. A large proportion of the Revenue of the College is derived, as stated, from its functions as an Examining and Licensing Body; and if the Income from that source fail this National Monument must suffer: it therefore becomes an imperative duty for the Council to take every precaution against such a calamity.

On the 13th of February, the biennial Oration in honour of John Hunter was delivered by the President; and a party of distinguished guests was entertained by the Council in the evening, at the customary dinner, the cost of which is, in great measure, provided for by the Hunterian fund.

During the year there have been thirteen Meetings of the Council. There have been, also, twenty-six Meetings of various Committees, of all of which the President and Vice-Presidents are ex officio Members. Some of these are permanent Committees, which meet periodically; others are appointed from time to time, for the performance of special duties. The permanent Committees are those which, severally, have the charge of the Museum and of the Library, for auditing the Accounts, for awarding the Prizes, and for General Purposes. It may be remarked, in passing, that an honorarium of one guinea is paid to each Member of the Council who attends the Council Meetings; and a similar Fee to the Members of the Audit Committee, which consists of the three junior Members of Council and the President and Vice-Presidents. As the Council meets about once in each month, and the average number of Members present is about twenty-one, and the Audit Committee meets once a quarter, the working expenses of the College, so far as the Council is concerned, can be readily calculated.

It is scarcely necessary to observe that a large proportion of the working supervision and management of the College is conducted by the Committees, and that this falls almost entirely on the Metropolitan Members of the Council.

The Court of Examiners have held forty-eight Meetings during the year for the Examination of Candidates for the Fellowship and Membership, each Meeting occupying the entire Court, on an average, four hours. Other Meetings have been held for the purpose of selecting questions for the Examinations; and at the written Examinations one or more of the Examiners always presides. It is scarcely necessary to add that, at every Examination, many hours are devoted by each Examiner to reading the Papers of Candidates, every Paper being submitted to the judgment of two Examiners; and, in exceptional cases, the answers are read to the whole Court.

There have also been three Meetings of the Midwifery and Dental Boards.

In presenting an abstract of the Minutes of the Council during the Collegiate year which has just closed, it will be more convenient and intelligible to classify the subjects, and to give a brief history of what has occurred in reference to the modifications proposed in the Primary, or Anatomical and Physiological, Examination for the Membership and Fellowship, and respecting the Scheme for a conjoint Examination in England.

In October last, an application from the late Dr. Anstie was laid before the Council, asking for the recognition of a new Medical School, which it was proposed to establish in London, for the education of Women. A list of the proposed Teachers was forwarded with the Memorial. In reply the Council stated that "they make no objection to the names of the Lecturers submitted to them, but that it is not the practice of the Council to entertain the question of the recognition of any School, unless its arrangements are complete and are fully known to the College."

A Memorial from leading Dentists throughout the country was received, and its prayer granted: it is to the following effect:—"That persons who were in practice as Dentists, or who commenced their professional education as Dentists prior to 1859, the date of the Dental Charter, may be admitted to examination for the Diploma in Dental Surgery at this College, on the conditions in force up to September, 1873; upon the understanding that they will have to submit themselves to the written and viva voce examinations required of all Candidates for the Diploma."

It is satisfactory to be able to report that this Diploma is increasingly sought, and that the general standard of Education in the Candidates is improving.

As recommended by the Dental Board, it was determined that, in future, every Lecturer on Dental Surgery be required to hold the Diploma of Dental Surgery of the College.

In speaking of the Licenses granted by the College, it may be remarked that the certificate of qualification in Midwifery, which was formerly often sought for special appointments, is now almost entirely disused, probably owing to the contemplated institution of a conjoint scheme, which will include this subject.

On application, the Sheffield Public Hospital and Dispensary was added to the list of Provincial Hospitals recognized by the College.

The Birmingham Clinical Board called the attention of the Council to the difficulty of obtaining Dressers; and suggested that the College should require all Candidates for the Membership to produce certificates of having dressed in a recognized Hospital. This subject was considered both in the Court of Examiners, to which it was referred, and at the Council; and the latter, on the recommendation of the Court, resolved that "it is inexpedient to make any change in the Regulations of the College in relation to Dresserships."

Mr. Gutteridge having made an application to the Council for permission to lecture, in the Theatre of the College, on Lithotomy, was informed "that he had been nominated, with other Candidates, for the office of Professor, but was not elected: and that it is not the practice of the Council to allow of Lectures being delivered in the College by others than the duly appointed Professor or Lecturer."

The following resolutions were adopted by the Council, in reference to certificates being received from the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Boards, in lieu of the usual Preliminary Examination:—

"1. That the certificates of having passed the Oxford and Cambridge 'Schools Examination Board' be recognized as equivalent to the Preliminary Examination for the Membership and Fellowship respectively, provided that they shall include the several subjects, excepting Geography, required for the Preliminary Examination for the Membership or Fellowship, as the case may be.

"2. That a Candidate who has obtained a certificate of having passed the Oxford and Cambridge 'Schools Examination Board' be allowed to complete a sufficient Preliminary Examination for the Membership or Fellowship of the College, as the case may be, on passing in the additional necessary subjects required for either of those Examinations, which were not included in the Examination of the Board."

These Resolutions are in accordance with former Resolutions of the Council, recognizing the Examinations in question as sufficient tests for those who propose to study the Medical Profession.

A list of Universities and other Institutions, the Preliminary Examinations of which are recognized in lieu of similar special examinations for the Fellowship and Membership, and also of recognized schools both at home and abroad, may be seen in the College Calendar, published annually, and in the Regulations obtainable at any time by application to the Secretary of the College.

During the recent Examinations at the College the Court was visited by gentlemen deputed by the General Medical Council. Their Report has been presented to the General Council, and transmitted to the Council of this College. The suggestions contained will receive their early and careful consideration.

Recently the President and Vice-Presidents were invited to join a Deputation, from the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland, to the Secretary of State for War, to represent to him certain alleged grievances affecting the Army Medical Department. This invitation was laid before the Council, who deputed the President and Vice-Presidents to act according to their discretion. Although my colleagues and I are anxious to promote the removal of any recognized grievances, and had a personal conference with the Deputation from Ireland, we considered it inexpedient to take part in this representation to the Government; inasmuch as no Memorial or appeal had been received from Members of our College on the subject, and we do not entertain the strong opinion which was expressed by the Representatives of the Irish College. Moreover, it appeared to us that the present is not the most opportune time for any such representation to Mr. Hardy, as we are ignorant of the nature and extent of the remedial changes which may be proposed by him; and we should needlessly risk any influence we may possess, by anticipating the action of the Government.

In accordance with a Resolution of Council, bearing date March 1875, a Committee was appointed to consider and report to them on the New Bye-laws, relating to Examiners and Examinations in Anatomy and Physiology, which Resolution was passed as far back as March 1870, but not acted on in consequence of the contemplated arrangement for a conjoint Examination in England.

It should be explained that the Council have determined that it is expedient these Examinations should be conducted by a Board, distinct from the Court of Examiners which has charge of the final or Pass Examination in Surgery and Pathology—such arrangement, however, not necessarily excluding the Examiners in the final Examination from taking part in that on Anatomy and Physiology. In other words, that there should be two Boards of Examiners, but that the fact of being a Member of one Board should not be a disqualification for holding office in the other.

The consideration of this subject has occupied the attention of the Committee during several Meetings, there having been many details of importance to settle; and it is expected that a full Report will soon be ready, to be laid before the Council, embodying the recommendations of the Committee as to the mode in which this desirable object may be carried into effect. Under the new arrangement, Physiology will necessarily occupy a more prominent position in the Examinations than heretofore. But the Examiners for the Pass Examination will not be thereby precluded from testing the qualifications of Candidates in Surgical or applied Anatomy. It is intended that the Regulations which are framed for the Membership shall also be applicable to Candidates for the Fellowship of the College.

It may be added that a Committee has been appointed by the Council to consider the Regulations relating to the Education and admission to Examination of Candidates for the Fellowship, which will meet as soon as the Report of the Committee above referred to has been presented to the Council.

The arrangement for a Conjoint Examination in England has not yet been brought to a satisfactory conclusion. The obstacles, so far as the College of Surgeons is concerned, have been twofold. On submitting the proposed Scheme to their legal adviser towards the close of last year, a case, drawn by him, was laid before Counsel, whose opinion thereon is subjoined.

"1. We are of opinion that the College of Surgeons cannot consistently with its Charters unite with the College of Physicians for the purpose of holding a joint Examination in the manner proposed, and make such Examination compulsory upon persons seeking to become Members of the College."

"2. We are of opinion that in order to enable the College of Surgeons to co-operate with the College of Physicians for the purpose of effecting the objects in view, it would be necessary for them to obtain either an Act of Parliament or a new Charter, giving them full power to carry out the joint scheme."

"3. We think that the preferable course would be to apply to the Crown for a new Charter, rather than to solicit an Act of Parliament."

(Signed) { "H. MANISTY,
"E. J. BEVIR."

The Council, being anxious to remove this obstacle to a conjoint action of the co-operating authorities, determined to apply for an "Enabling Act," which, it was subsequently understood, would empower them to unite with other Licensing Bodies in a Scheme for a conjoint Examination in England. This Bill was taken charge of by Sir John Lubbock and Dr. Lush, but its progress was, for a time, obstructed by an attempt to introduce an amendment, the object of which was to compel the College of Surgeons to admit Women to be examined for their Diploma. This opposition has been withdrawn, and it is confidently anticipated that the Act will become law during the present Session, as it has already passed the House of Commons.

The other difficulty referred to has been of a different character, and is due to a misapprehension in relation to the appointment of Examiners. As far back as February, 1871, a Scheme was proposed, and was sanctioned by the Colleges of Physicians and of Surgeons, and the Society of Apothecaries, according to which the appointment of Examiners was to be vested in these three Corporations; the College of Surgeons was to have the exclusive right to appoint all the Examiners in Surgery, and five eighths of those in Anatomy and Physiology, as well as one third of those in Midwifery; the College of Physicians and Society of Apothecaries agreeing to share the other appointments between them.

The Scheme has passed through several phases since that date; and subsequently the Universities joined the Colleges, and a Committee of Reference was formed, in whose hands it was proposed to vest the nomination of Examiners, leaving the acceptance or rejection of such nomination, or, in other words, the actual appointment of the Examiners, in the hands of the several co-operating Authorities.

The Council of the College of Surgeons believed that, in this Scheme, their privilege of appointing their own Examiners in Surgery, or the majority of them, and some also of the Examiners in Anatomy and Physiology, remained unimpaired, as they were assured that the Committee of Reference proposed that the nomination of the Examiners in Surgery should be made from the Court of Examiners of the College. The President of the General Medical Council correctly stated, at a Meeting of the Council on June 26th last, that "the College of Surgeons had always maintained or implied their right to secure the nomination of a certain proportion of the Examiners in Surgery and Anatomy." The importance of adhering to this resolution becomes more apparent when the operation of an alternative plan of appointment by the co-operating Authorities jointly is examined. Thus, if the privilege of appointing Examiners from their own College were denied to the Council, and were exercised by them only in common, or on equal terms, with the other Authorities, the College might be left in a minority in regard to the nomination of the Examiners in Surgery and Anatomy by the Committee of Reference; and in the actual appointment of them they would have only a veto: so that, in case of a difference of opinion between the College and the other co-operating authorities, it might be impracticable to make any appointment whatever; the whole working arrangement for the appointment of Examiners would thus come to a dead-lock.

In its general application this mode of making the appointments is open to very grave objections; and even under favourable circumstances it would scarcely be consistent with the harmonious operation of the Scheme. Moreover, considering the position this College has attained and now holds, by its own exertions, as an Examining Body in Surgery and Anatomy, and the value which is attached to its Diploma—considering also the unanimously expressed opinion of its Fellows and Members, at a Meeting in the College, on April 22nd, 1870, "that the Examiners in Anatomy and Surgery on the Licensing Board for England ought to be nominated either wholly or in part by the Royal College of Surgeons of England," the Council would be relinquishing their justly acquired influence, and acting at variance with the deliberate opinion of their Fellows and Members, if they acquiesced in any arrangement for a conjoint Examining Board in England, which would deprive them altogether of a separate control in the appointment of the Examiners in Surgery and Anatomy.

The Council are anxious loyally to fulfil their engagements with the other co-operating authorities, in accordance with the principles which they have always maintained, and which they regard as essential to the harmonious working of any scheme for a Conjoint Examination.

I cannot conclude this Report without congratulating the Fellows, Members, and Licentiates of our College on its continued prosperity, as evinced by their numbers, their wide distribution, and the important offices held by so many of them. This is a gratifying testimony of the esteem in which the Diplomas and Licenses of the College are held,—an esteem which is justly due to the character of those who possess them, and to the public confidence in their Professional qualifications.

The working efficiency of the Library, the Museum, and indeed of every department of the College, is a subject of reasonable pride to the Council, and should act as an incentive to all who are within accessible distance to avail themselves freely of the advantages they present—in the appreciation and utilization of which the Council have the only reward they desire for the care and labour bestowed on them.

The honour and dignity of the College cannot be dissociated from the character and reputation of its Fellows and Members; and it is hoped that they will aid the Council, in every way, in maintaining the elevated position it has attained among the public Institutions of our country.

F. LE GROS CLARK.

THE MUSEUM.

The Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 65. By his will he directed the Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal, to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the Preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some Person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were re-arranged in what are now termed the Western and Middle Museums, which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of the Eastern Museum, at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The re-arrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads:—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

|--|------|
| Physiological preparations in spirit | 3745 |
| Osteological preparations | 965 |

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard, and a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heavyside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, that of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

The Superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held four meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report:—

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONSERVATOR TO THE MUSEUM COMMITTEE.

(Presented June 29th, 1875.)

PATHOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

NOTWITHSTANDING the appeal made to the Profession in last year's Report, which was circulated in the principal medical journals, the contributions to this department have not exceeded the average number of the last few years.

The old preparations have been kept in good order, and much has been done specially in improving the condition of the large series of dry specimens of diseased bones in the Gallery. These were formerly merely placed loosely in the bottle, so that whenever they were moved they suffered injury by knocking against its sides, and many of them had no regard paid either to the natural position of the object or the best manner of showing its points of interest. They have now all been remounted in an improved manner, being immovably fixed in the bottles, and, where necessary, have been repaired and cleaned.

Dr. Goodhart is now engaged in preparing a further Supplement to the Pathological Catalogue, the publication of which has been sanctioned by the Council. The last Supplement was published in 1863, and upwards of seven hundred specimens have since been added, which are now only catalogued in manuscript, much to the inconvenience of students of this department.

PHYSIOLOGY AND NORMAL HUMAN ANATOMY.

In order to relieve the somewhat crowded galleries of the Eastern Museum, shelves have been fixed over the floor-cases of the west side of the Western Museum, on which the dissections of the ligaments, muscles, vessels, and nerves of the human body, prepared within the last few years by Mr. W. Pearson, have been placed. They are thus appropriately in a conspicuous part of the Museum and in contact with the series of Normal Human Osteology ranged in the flat cases below them. Several important additions have been made to this series during the year.

Among the numerous specimens by which the Physiological series has been enriched are twenty-eight dissections of the brain of man and the horse, made by the late Mr. Joseph Swan and figured in his work entitled 'Delineations of the Brain in relation to Voluntary Motion' (1864). These were presented to the College by Mr. Swan's nephews and executors, Mr. J. Vessy Machin and Mr. W. Greetham, after his death in October last.

OSTEOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

A beautifully articulated skeleton of a favourite Deerhound belonging to the late Sir Edwin Landseer, which, while living, had served as a model for many of his well-known pictures, was purchased at the sale of the artist's effects by Mr. Thomas Taylor, F.R.C.S., and presented by him to the Museum. But for this, and a considerable collection of skeletons of Chinese birds and mammals, presented by Mr. R. Swinhoe, of H.M. Consular Service, the additions would not perhaps have been so numerous as in some former years. The space in the Museum available for this department being so fully occupied, it becomes yearly more difficult to find accommodation for large objects without unduly crowding those already in the Museum, and so interfering with their value for the purposes of study. By careful rearrangement, however, room will be afforded for some years to come for many smaller specimens of interest which are required to make the series more complete and instructive.

A very important addition of this kind has been made during the present year by the arrangement and exhibition in the Museum of a collection of the osseous parts of the internal ear, i. e. the bony walls of the labyrinth, and especially the auditory ossicles, of a large number of vertebrated animals. In the year 1864 the College purchased from Dr. Max Hübrich, of Munich, a very interesting and beautifully prepared series of such specimens (120 in number), chiefly from the domestic or common wild mammals and birds of Germany. To this nucleus of the present collection a great number of others have been added, taken chiefly from the skulls or preparations in spirit in our Museum, and all have been mounted in a uniform manner, well adapted both for their perfect preservation and at the same time for giving every facility for their examination, in the rail-cases of the lower gallery of the Eastern Museum, adjoining the Physiological Series of Organs of Hearing in spirit. The collection at present embraces 222 specimens belonging to the Mammalia, 70 Birds, 14 Reptiles, and 70 otoliths of Fishes, 376 in all. The work of preparing, mounting, and arranging this series has been entirely executed by Mr. A. Doran.

The specimens of the os penis of various Mammals which have been collected for some years past as opportunity offered, many having been contributed by Dr. Murie and Mr. Garrod, of the Zoological Society, appearing now to be sufficiently complete for systematic arrangement, have been during the past year mounted and exhibited in the upper gallery of the same Museum, in connexion with the Physiological preparations of the male Organs of Reproduction. The series now includes upwards of seventy specimens belonging to sixty-six different species.

The additions to the general Osteological series have been so very numerous since the publication of the last catalogue in 1853, that the want of a new edition brought down to the present time begins to be much felt by those who are in the habit of consulting the Collection. I have therefore thought it my duty to commence the preparation of such a work, and hope soon to have the first portion of it in a sufficient state of forwardness to ask the sanction of the Council for its publication.

Several applications having been received for copies of the casts made some years ago from the interior of the cranial cavity, representing exactly the form and size of the brain (when covered by its membranes) of men of various races and many other species of animals, the Council have permitted them to be reproduced and sold by Mr. Brucciani, the well-known modeller of Russell-street, Covent Garden. Many educational institutions have already availed themselves of this opportunity of obtaining at a low price models which necessarily were made in the first instance at a considerable expense.

A new, revised and augmented edition of the Catalogue of Dermatological Specimens, by Professor Erasmus Wilson, is passing through the press, and will very shortly be issued.

I have to thank Mr. B. T. Lowne for his aid in arranging and describing the specimens added to the Teratological Series since the publication of his Catalogue of that Department of the Museum.

I append, as usual, a list of the specimens added to the Museum since the last Annual Report, and which are now submitted to the inspection of the Committee, and may add that a complete specimen in spirit of the rare and singular freshwater Dolphin of the Ganges (Platanista gangetica) has lately been presented by Dr. J. Fayrer, which, being not yet dissected and made into preparations ready to be placed in the Museum, does not appear in the list.

THE LIBRARY.

The formation of a regular Library may be said to have commenced in the year 1801, at which time and in succeeding years presentations and bequests of books, often in considerable numbers, were made to the College—the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books, and eventually voted a sum of £100 per annum for this purpose. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which sum were to be devoted to the same object. Some of the purchases thus made were considerable, as in the cases of the Libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. Andre, and Sir Anthony Carlisle, and books of importance were added at the recommendation of the Conservator of the Museum and others. In this way a Library of considerable value was gradually accumulated, but it was only accessible to a limited number of persons. In 1827 active steps were taken to render it more generally useful, and with this object catalogues and extensive lists of desirable acquisitions were ordered to be prepared. Large sums of money were also expended during this and the ensuing two years, amounting in the aggregate to nearly £6000. A Librarian was appointed, and in 1828 the Library, then containing 10,500 volumes, was thrown open to members of the College, and all other persons engaged in the pursuit of natural science were freely admitted. This large collection, thus opened, offered great facilities to the students. By means of extensive additions, the collection was well nigh complete in works on Medicine and Surgery, both domestic and foreign, whilst it was also very rich in publications relating to the accessory sciences. The transactions of Academies and Societies, and the collection of periodical publications in general, owing to their completeness, and the difficulty with which access can be obtained to this class of literature elsewhere than in large libraries, formed a valuable feature. The maintenance of the Library from that time to the present has involved a very considerable expenditure of the funds of the College. It has been the object of those to whose care it has been confided to ensure the completeness and excellence of the collection, and great facilities of reference have been provided by the preparation of additional catalogues and indexes of subjects. During the last year there have been added to the Library 418 volumes consisting of 98 new works and 101 tracts, pamphlets, essays, reports, and theses. The entire collection now contains 35,172 volumes, 14,135 works, and 37,468 tracts, pamphlets, essays, reports, and theses.

The following is a list of the donations that have been presented to the Library during the year 1874-75, viz.—
